

assistance for the South Asia nation of Pakistan, including aid for civilians fleeing a military offensive against Taliban militants in the northwest. The United Nations refugee agency issued a report stating that more than 1.4 million people in the North West Frontier Province (NWFP) have been registered as displaced since May 2, describing the flood as the largest and swiftest to take place anywhere in the world in recent years.

The newly-registered internally displaced persons (IDP) took the total number of those who have fled their homes in the SWAT valley and surrounding areas to two million.

I am hopeful that the $110 million in emergency assistance will get to the people on the ground and will be of assistance to them. It is important that the people of Pakistan see that the aid is coming from America to give a face to this aid. It is essential to global security and the security of the United States.

The surge of IDPs followed the launch of a military offensive in late April. President Asif Ali Zardari acted after U.S. officials stepped up warnings that Islamabad's willingness to tolerate and negotiate peace deals with the militants was endangering both Pakistan and the wider region. The Taliban fighting spread to NWFP districts and SWAT.

President Obama's new approach to Pakistan is different than anything that has been tried before. America has expressed that it will support the democratically-elected government and it will have a clear and transparent relationship. This bill has the support of the President, Secretary Clinton, Secretary Gates, Admiral Mullen, and Senators KERRY and LUGAR.

In conclusion, I urge you to support S. 1707, which seeks to and effectively establishes a new, more positive and enduring framework for U.S.-Pakistan relations. This legislation is timely. It is bipartisan. It is accountable. It is effective.

SIXTH ANNUAL NATIONAL CYBER SECURITY AWARENESS MONTH

HON. YVETTE D. CLARKE

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Ms. CLARKE. Madam Speaker, I rise in support of the sixth annual National Cybersecurity Awareness Month, which kicks off today.

The goal of National Cyber Security Awareness Month is to show everyday Internet users that by taking simple steps, they can safeguard themselves from the latest online threats and respond to potential cyber crime incidents.

I commend the National Cyber Security Division (NCSD) of the Department of Homeland Security (DHS), the National Cyber Security Alliance (NCSA), the Multi-State Information Sharing and Analysis Center (MS-ISAC) and their partners for sponsoring National Cyber Security Awareness Month again this year.

This year, the theme of National Cyber Security Awareness Month is "Our Shared Responsibility." Ultimately, our cyber infrastructure is only as strong as the weakest link. In this digital age, we are all connected. No individual, business, or government entity is solely responsible for cyber security. Everyone must make sure to employ safe and secure computing practices. We all need to understand how our individual online computing practices have a collective impact on our nation's cyber security.

Cyber security vulnerabilities can significantly impact our national and economic security. Cyber warfare and cyber crime are increasing in sophistication and frequency every day. The Department of Homeland Security logged 5,499 such cyber attack incidents in 2008—a 40 percent increase over the previous year. A 2007 Government Accountability Office report estimates the total U.S. business losses due to cyberattacks exceed $117.5 billion per year. A 2009 Consumer Reports study found that over the past 2 years, one in five online consumers has been a victim of cyber crime. Attacks on our Federal Government networks this summer served as a recent reminder that we must remain vigilant in combating cyber incidents.

Through the help of the Obama administration, cyber security is finally gaining the much needed attention it deserves both in the Federal Government and the private sector. The White House's Cyberspace Policy Review, published this May, recommends that the government initiate a national public awareness and education campaign to promote cyber security. The President will soon name a National Cyber Security Coordinator, the first such White House post.

As chairwoman of the Homeland Security Subcommittee on Emerging Threats, Cybersecurity and Science and Technology, I am doing my part to oversee government's role in securing cyberspace. Earlier this year I held a series of hearings on our Nation's cyber security posture and the various vulnerabilities in our critical information infrastructure. This month I will host a series of events geared to educate Hill staff on this important national and economic security issue.

NATIONAL HISPANIC HERITAGE MONTH

HON. PHIL HARE

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. HARE. Madam Speaker, I proudly rise today in observance of Hispanic Heritage Month to honor the culture, traditions and contributions of the Hispanic community both in my home state of Illinois and in the country as a whole.

What began as Hispanic Heritage Week in 1968 under President Johnson was expanded in 1988 when Illinois Senator Paul Simon introduced legislation to lengthen the celebration to National Hispanic Heritage Month. Beginning each year on September 15, Hispanic Heritage Month falls during the independence anniversaries of several Latin American countries, and celebrates those Americans whose ancestors came from Spain, Mexico, the Caribbean, and Central and South America.

Today, Hispanic Americans are the largest minority group within the United States. And throughout our history, the Hispanic community has made invaluable contributions to our history and national character in the areas of government and politics, science, business, and the arts.

Of the 500 largest Hispanic-owned businesses, twenty are located in Illinois, including Group O, Inc. located in my district in the Village of Milan. I would also like to commend the President for appointing and the Senate for confirming the newest addition to the U.S. Supreme Court, Associate Justice Sonia Sotomayor, whose life story exemplifies the American Dream: that with courage, determination and hard work, anyone can prosper and achieve success.

Furthermore, Hispanic Americans have made significant contributions to the defense of this nation through service in all branches of the Armed Forces. Hispanics have courageously defended the United States in wars from the American Revolution through the current conflicts in Iraq and Afghanistan. To date, forty-three Hispanic Americans have received the Congressional Medal of Honor, the nation's highest award for valor in action against an enemy force.

In Silvis, Illinois there is a block-and-a-half-long street with twenty-five homes that was originally settled by Mexican immigrants in the earlier part of the twentieth century. This street, appropriately renamed Hero Street USA, has, sent more than 110 men and women to serve in the U.S. armed forces, more than any other American street of comparable size anywhere in our country. Their unselfish defense of this nation and its values is representative of the strength, hard work and love of family and country demonstrated by the Hispanic community in the United States.

Additionally, I am proud to have Joe Terronez among my constituency, who in 1967 was elected to the city council in Silvis and later became Illinois's first Hispanic mayor.

Madam Speaker, I ask my colleagues to continue this national celebration which was first started by the 100th Congress and join me in honoring the histories, cultures and contributions of Hispanic Americans during Hispanic Heritage Month.

PROVIDING FOR CONSIDERATION OF CONFERENCE REPORT ON LEGISLATIVE BRANCH APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 2010

SPEECH OF

HON. HARRY TEAGUE

OF NEW MEXICO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, September 25, 2009

Mr. TEAGUE. Madam Speaker, I am very disappointed that the leadership of this House has put us in the unfortunate position of voting on legislation that combines the Legislative Branch Appropriations bill and the Continuing Resolution.

First, I am against this Legislative Branch Appropriations bill. I am against Congress increasing its own budget while small businesses around the country tighten their belts. Companies in my district are cutting hours and cutting costs. Workers are losing their jobs. But Congress is paying its staff $74 million more than last year. We have our priorities backward. I voted against the Legislative Branch Appropriations bill when it came up in the House, and I have no interest in supporting the conference report.

Second, I oppose this corruption of the legislative process. My colleagues and I should have the opportunity to say "no" to more money for our own offices without opposing needed increases for our veterans. This isn't the way to do business.

Third, I regret that the first appropriations priority of this Congress is the legislative branch. While spending bills to support veterans, border security, and our men and women in uniform languish, we are sending a bill to increase our allowances to the President. Our veterans should be first in line, not us.

Because of this failure, the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs will, for the tenth time in 11 years, get its budget late. Late funding threatens the quality of care at the VA and hinders the VA's ability to recruit well-trained medical professionals, maintain facilities, and acquire new equipment.

During testimony before the Senate Veterans' Affairs Committee on July 27, 2007, former VA medical center directors stated that most VA budget cycles began via a continuing resolution. As a result, decisions were made on the basis of cost rather than on the basis of the highest quality. The expression, "a day late, a dollar short," comes to mind.

By passing advanced appropriations for veterans in this year's budget, we will make sure the VA isn't playing a waiting game with its budget next year. But that doesn't mean we can fall down on the job of supporting our nation's veterans this year. We should be passing legislation to support our veterans, not this.

EXPRESSING CONDOLENCES TO THE PEOPLE OF AMERICAN SAMOA, SAMOA AND INDONESIA IN THE AFTERMATH OF THE EARTHQUAKES AND TSUNAMI DEVASTATION

HON. ALCEE L. HASTINGS

OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. HASTINGS of Florida. Madam Speaker, I rise today to express my deep condolences to the people of American Samoa and Samoa on Tuesday suffered a devastating tsunami triggered by a powerful earthquake of 8.0 on the Richter scale. The destructive path of the tsunami has flattened villages and caused the deaths of over a hundred people. I am truly saddened by this devastating turn of events. My thoughts and prayers are with the victims' families during this most difficult time.

While hundreds of people are being treated for injuries and as rescue efforts continue, I am glad to see that relief supplies are getting to the Pacific islands right away.

Madam Speaker, I also would like to extend my condolences to the people of western Indonesia who regrettably suffered a powerful earthquake on Wednesday, where at least 1,100 people have been killed. The aftermath of this earthquake has caused landslides and trapped thousands under buildings, including two hospitals. I send my deepest sympathies to the families who have lost loved ones from this devastating earthquake.

The valiant efforts of local authorities and the Red Cross to rescue victims must not go unnoticed. These brave individuals are on the frontline and face many grave dangers to help those in need. I would also like to commend my colleague and friend, Congressman ENI FALEOMAVAEGA for his quick response to this terrible tragedy. His leadership during this difficult time will undoubtedly help the people of American Samoa and Samoa rebuild the Pacific islands and restore it back to its beautiful heritage.

Madam Speaker, the coming weeks and months will be a very trying time for all those affected by these natural disasters. I wish the people of American Samoa and Samoa as well as Indonesia a safe recovery.

RECOGNITION OF CITY YEAR NEW YORK ON OPENING DAY

HON. CHARLES B. RANGEL

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. RANGEL. Madam Speaker, I rise in honor of City Year and especially City Year New York to celebrate the Opening Day of the '09-'10 City Year class. Tomorrow is Opening Day for all 19 City Year sites, deploying 1,500 corps members in service to our country's high-need schools, including those in my district.

The '09-'10 City Year New York class has more than 230 young leaders representing 38 out of the 50 states, bringing a diverse group of service-oriented individuals to help New York's children succeed. Being from the great state of New York, I am proud that City Year New York runs the largest City Year program in the country.

I admire City Year for its continued service and dedication to our New York communities. Its goals to help students and schools succeed, build stronger communities, break down social barriers, develop young leaders, and foster active citizenship are what lead to make our nation's youth better equipped for tomorrow's challenges. City Year New York does these things and more at several schools in my community of Harlem, including Vito Marcantonio, James Weldon Johnson, Luis Munoz Rivera, and Jose Celso Barbosa elementary schools, and Jackie Robinson and John S. Roberts middle schools.

Education is the most critical factor for determining the future well-being of our children. President Obama, City Year, and our partners recognize that we cannot afford to fail in this area because our economy and, more importantly, a united democracy depend on it. City Year recognizes this success requires a whole community effort and serves our students with a team comprised of government officials, school staffs, corporate partners, and youth leaders.

Harlem was able to provide space for corps training at The Minisink Town House of the New York Mission Society. I am pleased that community partnerships like these, and the support of corporate partnerships, will ensure that City Year New York is able to continue its efforts and succeed in Harlem.

Let's continue to applaud and support City Year, especially City Year New York, and all service organizations as they continue building better communities. I call upon my fellow Members of Congress to join me in celebrating the Opening Day for these 1,500 corps members as they embark on their missions of service.

NON-COMMISSIONED OFFICERS WHO SERVE OUR NATION IN THE U.S. ARMY

HON. SPENCER BACHUS

OF ALABAMA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 1, 2009

Mr. BACHUS. Madam Speaker, it is with great pride and admiration that I rise today to honor the Non-Commissioned Officers from the great state of Alabama who serve our Nation in the United States Army.

NCOs from the my state have served in defense of our freedoms, in support of our democracy, and in service to the citizens of the state of Alabama during times of natural disasters and to our Nation in times of national emergencies at home and abroad.

Since 9/11, Army Reservists from Alabama have deployed over 6,000 times and members of the Alabama Army National Guard have made over 15,000 deployments to the Global War on Terror, many for the second, third, and fourth time.

The U.S. Army has designated 2009 as the "Year of the NCO" to pay tribute to the leadership qualities and contributions of the Non-Commissioned Officers charged with executing the military organization's mission and training for personnel and equipment maintenance that make their units function. Those values are embodied in the NCO Creed, which reads:

No one is more professional than I. I am a Non-Commissioned Officer, a leader of soldiers. As a Non-Commissioned Officer, I realize that I am a member of a time honored corps, which is known as 'The Backbone of the Army'. I am proud of the Corps of Non-Commissioned Officers and will at all times conduct myself so as to bring credit upon the Corps, the Military Service and my country regardless of the situation in which I find myself. I will not use my grade or position to attain pleasure, profit, or personal safety;

Competence is my watchword. My two basic responsibilities will always be uppermost in my mind—accomplishment of my mission and the welfare of my soldiers. I will strive to remain technically and tactically proficient. I am aware of my role as a Non-Commissioned Officer. I will fulfill my responsibilities inherent in that role. All soldiers are entitled to outstanding leadership; I will provide that leadership. I know my soldiers and I will always place their needs above my own. I will communicate consistently with my soldiers and never leave them uninformed. I will be fair and impartial when recommending both rewards and punishment;

Officers of my unit will have maximum time to accomplish their duties; they will not have to accomplish mine. I will earn their respect and confidence as well as that of my soldiers. I will be loyal to those with whom I serve; seniors, peers, and subordinates alike. I will exercise initiative by taking appropriate action in the absence of orders. I will not compromise my integrity, nor my moral courage. I will not forget, nor will I allow my comrades to forget that we are professionals, Non-Commissioned Officers, leaders!

It is an honor to draw attention to these brave soldiers, and I commend Alabama's Army Non-Commissioned Officers for their service to our State and the Nation.
